The Belt would like to see the State Legislature composed of men who own the lands of the State,—cattlemen and ranchers.—Chloride Belt.

The Belt is asking a good deal. After a while it will be calling for regular taxpayers and realty owners to hold offices, instead of the grip-sack brigade.

A Chinese cook has been arrested in San Francisco for threatening, with cocked revolver in hand, to kill a hotel waiter girl unless she should eat the pancakes he had cooked. The girl, like the politician with his dish of crow, decided that while not hankering after the article she could eat it, considering the inducements offered.

The Church Militant.

The town was startled yesterday by the announcement that Rev. Fred Holmes, Rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church had had a scrap on the street.

When the matter was traced to its source by the APPEAL, it was found that the report was untrue.

It appears, however, that between 9 and 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Rev. Holmes, H. M. Yerington and D. Circe were chatting on the street, relative to the delightful weather and balmy aspect of spring, when Mr. Hanford came up somewhat flushed, and walking up to Rev. Holmes, took him by the arm remarking: "I want to see you."

Mr. Holmes drew back and assuming a correct attitude of defence replied.

"Any where, and any way, you please, sir."

For a moment it appeared as if trouble was to begin, when Mr. Yerington, acting as a peace maker, caught Mr. Holmes' arm and Mr. Circe grabbed Mr. Hanford, and both counseled moderation.

Mr. Holmes who is an admirer of athletic sports and an excellent boxer, announced that he was able to take care of himself, at any time and place.

Mr. Yerington soothed the troubled waters and still acting as moderator, advised the gentlemen to repair to his office and have a fair talk instead of a war dance.

Mr. Circe not being a regular member of the parish, withdrew, and the three went down to the V. & T. office where a cooler talk was indulged in.

Mr. Hanford stated to friends that Mr. Holmes had repeated innocent remarks he had made in such a way, that it placed him in a false light. He stated that Mr. Holmes had charged him with saying that certain parties had made commission out of the purchase of the church organ; whereas, what he really said was, that he thought that anyone who had taken the trouble to handle the purchase of the instrument, was entitled to a commission. He regarded that the misconstruction of his language was purposely made to create trouble.

In addition to this, some one had told Mr. Holmes that Hanford was threatening to thrash him; whereas, he had never made any such remark.

Thus it happened that when Mr. Holmes saw Hanford walking up to him, he thought that he was about to execute the threat which had been repeated to him, and assumed a defensive position to guard his person from attack, with a proper Marquis of Queensbury attitude.

No blows were struck by either side, and the public regard the matter, as only the natural sequence of Lenten restraint and after mutual explanations no more trouble is likely to result.

Looks Serious.

News was received yesterday that eighteen Americans had been seized and cast into Italian prisons in retaliation for the killing of the Mafia people at New Orleans. This act of Italy has a strong gun-powder smell.

Shooting at Bodie.

On Sunday evening last, Supt. Kelly, of the Bulwer mine, at Bodie, had a shooting scrape with a man named Grant. A woman is supposed to be the cause of the trouble. Kelly was hit in the jaw.

Some of the members of the California Legislature remind us of the poor fellow who applied for a school. When asked, by the examining committee, "What is the shape of the earth?"—he declared that he was not at all "set" in his opinions, and was willing to teach "round or square" just as the committee preferred. The trouble at Sacramento is to find out exactly what the "committee" prefers.—Hayes Valley Advertiser.

Clevelands Minstrels

The Cleveland Company that appears here to-night is one of the white companies controlled by the manager. Several of the performers are old acquaintances and solid favorites, but as an organization it is entirely new to Carson. This is represented as the pick of the lot and with Emerson, Schoolcraft and other celebrities, the noted family of gymnasts and other accomplished general performers is probably entitled to the distinction of being first-class.

A Good Law.

Under the old law a man who could not pay his board at a hotel could merely inform the proprietor that he had no money and walk out. He could not arrest him until he was actually leaving the State.

Under the new law a man who beats a hotel can be arrested before leaving the town where the hotel is situated.

It Depends.

The Social Session.

Last night's show was attended by a large audience and the play was a peal of laughter except when the audience was listening breathless to the music.

A great many of our regular subscribers complain that they are bothered by their neighbors running in before breakfast to borrow the APPEAL. This is something we cannot remedy. The best way to dispose of a non-subscribing borrower, is to say: "Sorry I can't accommodate you, but I just loaned it to a man in the next block. When he brings it back, I will send it right over."

Some people are very much exercised over the idea that the United States Government has to meet $50,000,000 on the first of the month. If the United States Government wants to deputize some one to go out and meet this amount of money, we are willing to act as proxy on this particular occasion.
